CARMEL SUN

VOLUME NO. 3 CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIF., THURSDAY, SEPT. 5, 1935 NUMBER 32

Bunches Win Case in Court

At last the lawsuit of Bunch vs. Pfremmer is ended. Judgment was given us as prayed for in the complaint, which included court costs, attorneys' fees and interest. We were sorry to be a party litigant, but we were forced to be such in order to protect our name and our legal rights.

The case was born when Mr. and Mr. Pfremmer, after purchasing and taking possession of the Carmel Sun, refused to make further payments on the purchase price, and claimed misrepresentation and fraud in the sale of the paper to them. Their claims were false and after two days in court, we were given a clean "bill of health" by Judge Jorgensen.

Scandalmongers Are Busy

A good many people of weak intellect, easily led by gossips and scandalmongers, have taken sides against us without knowing our side of the question. The case was conducted openly and it is really a pity that those who were interested enough to worry over the Pfremmers having something "put over" on them did not attend the hearings and learn the true facts of the case.

It has always peen a little difficult for us to believe that others were interested in our personal affairs and we have previously refrained from airing out grievances through our columns. We feel it necessary at this time, however, since so much publicity has been given us already, all distorted by personal interests in one way or another—a great deal by Mr. Pfremmer himself, who had nothing to back up his accusations in court; a great deal by the competitors and their henchmen both in a whispering campaign and through their columns, and a purported interview from Lawyer Lenahan, in the Trader a small weekly in Monterey, carrying false statements. You can readily see wherein these might profit from running us down. Why absolute strangers took it upon themselves to do so, will always remain a mystery. Why D. L. Staniford, always so friendly face to face, should do so remains a mystery; why a certain man by the name of Bacher, who, according to a report made by a Mr. Atter for the Pfremmers, should have made such a false statement as "A year ago the floor of the post office was littered with Carmel Suns same as with the shopping news" could probably not be explained by Bacher himself, unless it could come from his other alleged statement that he "avoids reading." We feel inclined to think he can't read.

But the difficulties did not bring out such as the above alone. We discovered some of the finest people we have ever known any place, many friends we did not even know we had, and to them we extend our sincerest appreciation.

If there is anyone who wishes to know the details of the controversy, we will be glad to explain to them if they will call at the office.

Attorneys Appreciated

We were represented in the case by George P. Ross, attorney, of Carmel, and E. Guy Ryker, attorney, Monterey, while the Pfremmers were represented by J. W. Lenahan. We are very much pleased with the handling of the case by our lawyers.

Mr. Ryker has long practiced on the Monterey peninsula and is well and favorably known to you all. Mr. Ross is a newcomer, having located in Carmel less than two years ago to practicé his profession. However, he is not new to the game, having been in active practice in the San Joaquin valley, California, for around 17 years prior to coming here. He is a graduate of Stanford University law school.

It is our wish to acquaint you with the fact that in Mr. Ross you have an excellent attorney right here in your midst. Mr. Ross goes about his work in court in a manner that shows he knows what it is all about. He apparently knows what to do and the right time to do it.

Again, we are grateful to our lawyers. Mr. Ryker needs no introduction, but we feel the people in Carmel should acquaint themselves with Mr. Ross' ability.

Only One Necessary?

It is time to hear again that time-worn, plaintive yowl that "Carmel doesn't need but one newspaper." Consider the source of the remark when you hear it and base your opinion on cause and effect. Carmel could probably get along with one store, one filling station, one garage, one real estate office, etc., but it would hardly be the town it is if it were dominated by a few arrogant and inefficient yaps who would make it a one-man town. There is ample room in Carmel for as many newspapers as can make a go of it, and insofar as Carmel Sun is concerned the owner made money here—more than some publishers could prove in court. And wouldn't it give some publishers a chill if they had to go into court and prove their circulation!

Thursdays Again; Lists Combined

With this issue of Carmel Sun, the publication day goes back to Thursday. The paper will be placed in the post office early Friday morning as was the custom before Mr. Pfremmer changed the publication day to Tuesday. The subscription list will be combined with that of the Peninsula Weekly News and as an advertising medium will reach every district on the peninsula. We will attempt to give reading matter in which everyone may find something of interest. We have worked under difficulties this week but hope to have things running smoothly by the time of our next issue.

Kuster Leases Community Theatre for Films

Carmel Playhouse, heretofore only occasionally used for motion pictures, has been equipped with the latest in projection and sound devices; and has been leased by owners, Edward and Gabrielle Kuster, to Central California Theatres. The latter will inaugurate a complete motion picture service, beginning with Tuesday, September 17th, with two programs every night and a daily matinee.

Under an alliance with the well known Hollywood Filmarte, the Playhouse will be henceforth known as Carmel Filmarte Theatre, and a special series of outstanding foreign pictures will be established for Wednesday and Thursday showings each week. "Man of Aran" and "Chapayev." two of the finest European films of the year, will be played during the first month of operation, according to Richard Bare, who has come up from Hollywood to take charge.

Reservations in the lease will preserve the Playhouse for the community's own drama and opera without substantial interruption of the motion picture schedule.

The report that the new picture house will reduce the heretofore prevailing admission price to twenty-five cents is only partially confirmed by the Filmarte manager. He states, "I take pleasure in saying that the admission price for all members of the Peninsula Film Club will be a quarter of a dollar. An agreement to that effect has been made by my company, in view of the encouragement given us by the Film Club, organized for the promotion of community interest in better film entertainment.

Our ultimate aim, after we have tried out the territory and established a dependable volume of attendance, is to reduce the general admission price to the same figure. This will take time however. We believe our programs will arouse the interest of the Peninsula, and are particularly confident that Carmel itself will respond enthusiastically to this new kind of motion picture house."

The gala opening on September 17th will present for the first time to Peninsula audiences the famous film of the Arabian Nights. "Chu Chin Chow."

Robert G. Leidig, Carmel's fire chief, and John M. Catlin are planning to attend the convention of the Pacific Coast fire chiefs to be held in Sacramento next week.

Miss Anne Green has returned home after a visit with friends in Berkeley.

TURANO WILL ADVERTISE REGULARLY IN CARMEL SUN

One of our first old customers to return to advertising in Carmel Sun was Turano's Market on Del Monte avenue. Mr. Turano has been in the produce business on the Peninsula for twenty years and has established the largest exclusive produce business on the Peninsula. The past year he has extended his business so that he is now raising a good part of his vegetables on a large fifty acre ranch he has leased near Marina. He also employs a large crew of men on the ranch cutting wood which he offers at low prices delivered anywhere on the peninsula.

We have a double pleasure in welcoming Turano back to the columns of the Sun for not only is his business profitable but he is one of the editor's best friends, and we recommend him to anyone as an outstanding gentleman doing business absolutely on the square.

Frank Wickham has returned to Carmel after a short stay in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wickham, who accompanied him to that city, plans to remain in her Beverly Hills home this winter.

Sunset School Opens Wilh Enrollment of 325

Sunset school got off to a fine start Tuesday morning with an enrollment of 325, which number will be increased within the coming two weeks.

The teachers have been assigned to the following grades, but some minor changes may have to be made later on, according to Superintendent Bardarson:

Anne Kohner, kindergarten; Lily C. Trowbridge, first grade: Bernice Riley, high first and high second; Edna Lockwood, second; Bernita Ninneman, third: Frances Farley, fourth: Althea Kendall, fifth; R. J. Gale, sixth grade Frances Johnson, seventh; Anna Marie Baer, eighth; Anne Uzzell, high fifth and low eighth divisions; Madeline Currey, music; Ernest Calley, shop; Blanche Henninger, domestic science; Eleanor Smith, nature study. Mary VanSant will assist Miss Henninger in the cafeteria.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades coming under departmental work, the teachers are home room teachers.

Miss Riley is new on the faculty this year, and is a graduate of the State Teachers' college of San Francisco.

The traffic squad started off the new term with the boys on the job to see that the pupils are protected from wild drivers

WILLIAM T. NEIKIRK WEDS PALO ALTO GIRL

A wedding was solemnized in Palo Alto Saturday afternoon wherein Miss Janet Hartmansenn of that city became the bride of Mr. William Thom Neikirk of Carmel. Mr. John Neikirk, Carmel, brother of the groom was best man.

After a short wedding trip the newlyweds will come to Carmel and make their home in the Matthews residence at Eighth and Torres.

NO DOGS ALLOWED IN EATING PLACES; LAW

Signs on doors of restaurants and eating houses of "No dogs allowed" are placed there in accordance with a state law and not simply because the restaurant keepers wish to keep the pets outside, according to lunch room proprietors in Carmel.

The Sun has been asked to make this explanation to the public.

PAGEANT WAS FINE; NOT WELL ATTENDED

The committee of the Serra Pageant this year is proud of the production but very regretful that weather conditions were such that only about one-third as many attended as last year.

Due to experience gained last year, the lighting this year, and other stage effects were an improvement over the first pageant, according to one of the prominent workers.

The committee is at present very busy checking up on receipts and expenditures but no report is yet available and probably will not be for a few days.

Gilbert B. Scruggs, Presidio of Monterey, was arrested Monday night on a charge of reckless driving and Tuesday morning was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or spend 30 days in jail. He paid the fine.

Carmel City Council Holds Regular Meeting

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening.

Among the interesting discussions was that on the final reading of an ordinance which will divorce police and fire departments and place them under different heads. Councilman Catlin again offered to give over to Councilman Rowntree the commissionership but the ordinance was passed three to two.

The question of making the streets four feet wider by making the walks narrower was discussed. This will probably be done when the water company lays the new 8-inch water main up Ocean avenue.

The question of a new fire house will be taken up at the next meeting and an election will probably be held in November.

Note: A full report was written on the meeting, but was crowded out with other good reading matter by a last minute rush of advertising.

UNION SUPPLY CO. AIDS IN FHA CONSTRUCTION

The Union Supply company is stressing the remodeling and building campaign under F H A Loans and an ad of theirs appears elsewhere in this issue of the Sun. The Union Supply Company is one of the oldest and by far the largest dealers in lumber on the Peninsula. Their stock of mill work is complete and of the best workmanship and material and they have the most complete mill on the Peninsula. They are able to give real service on any job of remodeling or construction large or small.

SOLEMN PONTIFICAL MASS HELD MONDAY AT MISSION

In connection with the Serra celebration, Solemn High Mass was held here last Sunday and Solemn Pontifical Mass held on Monday.

Rev. Father O'Connell, resident pastor, conducted Sunday's service, while the Most Rev. J J. Cantwell, D. D. bishop of Los Angeles, officiated at Monday's services. The Most Rev. Philip G. Scher, D. D. bishop of Monterey-Fresno diocese, presided at the sanctuary. The sermon was presented by the Very Rev. Zachias Mahar, S. J., the provincial, Jesuit society.

Beautiful music was furnished on both occasions by Noel Sullivan and a group of professionals from San Francisco.

CARMEL TOWNSEND GLUB HAS ENJOYABLE PARTY

The Townsend whist party held at Manzanita hall Friday evening was well attended and all report an enjoyable time. Delicious refreshments were served and many lovely prizes were given, the following being the fortunate winners:

Y. Rutherford, Mrs. H. W. Hawes, Dorothy Machado, E. L. Taylor, M. E. Derrick, Mrs. Inez Warren, Mrs. C. E. Newton, H. W. Hawes, Susan Rosh and Mary Christensen.

Carmel Sun Prinfed Under Difficulties This Week

Taking back the Sun on such short notice has proved something of a job and in the emergency the paper is printed in our fine, new plant in New Monterey.

However, our printer will probably be here the first of next week. Anyway, the Sun will be printed in our Carmel plant next week, with our job department running full blast, turning out the very highest grade of printing at a fraction of the cost charged by printers in the price fixing combine with which the people of the peninsula have become acquainted—to their sorrow.

John Terry, formerly with the Pacific Grove Tribune, was on the peninsula last week-end bidding his friends good bye before leaving for Honolulu where he will take a position with the Star-Bulletin. Mr. Terry has been employed on the Palo Alto Times for the past year.

Ben Wasson paid a $10 fine in lieu of a 10-day jail sentence after pleading guilty before Judge Hellam Tuesday on a charge of being drunk on Alvarado street Sunday.

COMMUNITY CHURCH LADIES HOLD ANNUAL BAZAAR

"Some lovely things and some terrible junk," was the way one of the committee reported on the things offered this year at the Community Church bazaar, an annual event held by the ladies of that organization. On the whole, however, articles seemed somewhat superior to those on sale on previous occasions and many persons were rejoicing in finding what they wanted at a very low price.

With the bazaar an annual occurence, many things which would otherwise be destroyed are kept and placed on sale, thereby aiding the church and those purchasing.

The sale continues through Saturday and all merchandise not sold will be turned over to the Salvation army.

USED TIRE BUSINESS OPENED BY THE SHERLOCK BROTHERS

One of the newer businesses to open on the peninsula recently is the used-tire shop at the Del Monte corner on the Salinas highway.

The Sherlock Brothers who are operating the business have been in this line of work for several years and have a state-wide set-up wherein they buy the used tires taken in by dealers and service stations all over the state. Some of these are retread while others that are serviceable are sold at priees as low as $1.00, and the purchaser can get in the most cases thousands of miles of good service at a very low price.

Gwillan Pritchard was arrested on Del Monte avenue Sunday because of suspicious behavior. He was found to be wanted, it is said, by police in Marin county and in other places.

Word was received in Monterey this week of the recent wedding of John Gibson English of that city to Lucille May Nevis of Salinas. The ceremony was performed in Santa Cruz.
